DENTIST DVER HASWELL'S BOOK STORD Queer Life In Johannesburg.

Here is an amusing description of queer life in a Johannesburg residentia! block: "Nearly every one has one room, and into this you crain nearly all your worldly possessions and learn all kinds of vanishing tricks and juggling feats, such as having a combina tion bed and plane, using your washing stand for your writing table and converting your hip bath by day with rugs and cushions into an armchair. In this abode of bliss you receive your friends, male and female, and, if the gentleman, sitting himself rashly on the bed-sofs, vanishes into the piano or the lady throws herself wearfly into the hip bath armchair and it falls off the packing case with her inside it, no one will turn a hair. You will invite them to lunch or tea or dinner, which ever is approaching, and the gentleman will offer to go and buy chops or kippers and fetch the milk and when he returns will help you cook, and you'll sit together and est it on the washing stand, which also does duty as a dinner table on such occasions."-London Standard.

The Chief Justice.

"There are very few people who know the proper designation of the man who presides over the supreme court," said the secretary of the senate.

"Generally he is referred to as the chief justice of the United States supreme court. In fact, he is the chief justice. That's his official title. Most of our presidents in nominating men for this office have fallen into the error of giving him the long title. When George Washington nominated Oliver Ellsworth of Connecticut for this post he described it as chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Andrew Jackson made the same error in nominating Richard B. Taney. So dld Abraham Lincoln when he appointed Salmon P. Chase. Grover Cleveland was the first president to give the correct designation. When he appointed Melville W. Fuller he nominated him to be chief justice and nothing Future nominations will be else. framed in this fashion."-Washington

Fifty Dollar Dinners.

"Dinners at $50 a plate are as common in New York as five dollar dinners are in London and Paris," said a chef. "Our extravagant dinners are no better than the cheaper foreign ones. Their cost is caused not by the exquisite cooking of exquisite materials, but by the use of exotic foods whose expense is their chief recommendation. What do I mean by exotic foods? Well, I mean cane sugar instead of the ordinary beet root kind for the compote; I mean wild rice instead of the cultivated for the canvasback; I mean sole brought alive from England and sterlet from Russia, when our own native fish is better conditioned; I mean hothouse strawberries as big as apples, pears as big as cocoanuts and grapes as big as peaches, all tasting rather like raw pumpkin but looking very fine in blizzard weather. Foolish foods; but, then, t's only foolish people who eat fifty dollar dinners."-Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Woman Soldier.

Eleonore Prochaska, born March 11 785, at Potsdam, was the daughter of a sergeant. After being brought up in the military orphanage of that town she became a cook in some citizen's house. When the great war against Napoleon broke out in 1813 she was led away by enthuslasm to quit her town secretly. By selling her poor belongings she procured male attire and weapons and enlisted under the name of August Renz in the Lutzow corps. On account of her tall, slender figure her sex was not discovered until she was mortally wounded. This happened in the encounter in the Gohrde forest. Regierungsbezirk, Luneburg, Kreis Dannenberg, Sept. 16, 1813. The Prussians were there attempting to storm a hill occupied by the French, she acting as a drummer. In 1863 a monument in memory of her was erected in the churchyard at Dannenberg and another in 1889 in the old churchyard of in the city. Potsdam.-London Sketch.

Sir James Ross in the course of his travels noted a curious fact with regard to the penguin-namely, the habit of swallowing stones. In one specimen he found ten pounds weight of quartz, granite and trap. Other ant mals, reptiles, fishes and mammals exbibit the same range fancy. In a paper contributed to the proceedings of the Bristol Naturalists' society W. H. Wicks has collected a number of facts connected with such stomach stones. The fact noted by Mr. Wicks that the pebbles are usually white quartz is interesting, but does not appear to throw any light on the strange habit-London Globe.

A Queer Battle A traveler in South Africa tells of a dugular combat that he witnessed. He was musing one morning with his eyes on the ground when be noticed a caterpillar crawling along at a rapid pace, followed by hundreds of small ants. Being quicker in their movements, the ants would catch up with the caterpillar, and one would mount his back and bite him. Pausing, the caterpillar would turn his head and bite the ant and kill his termenter. After slaughtering a dozen or more of his persecutors the caterpillar showed signs of fatigue. THIEF STEALS CHURCH, KEYS. DOOGOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

Locks Door on Janitor and Decamps. Pastor Puzzled About How to Open Church.

Special to The Eagle.

Fort Worth, April 3. Some unknown thief carries the keys of the Pirst Methodist church of this city and how the doors are to be opened for the services tomorrow is the problem that is puzzling the pastor, Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker.

While the janitor was working in another room of the church this morning some prowler entered the main auditorium, stole the keys from the pocket of his coat hanging on the pulpit, locked the doors and fled.
